red lobster and contest #3!!

Sorry for the delay in getting this up.....

Recently I was asked to write a review for the recently re-designed Red Lobster and truthfully, I was a little hesitant to say yes. You see, we are NOT a fish eating family at all. I have only eaten shrimp a few times, my husband as well and my kids have never eaten fish at all .

My son, however, has been asking to try lobster so I figured this was a great opportunity for him to try it. Well I am very happy I said yes. We went to the Red Lobster on the Scranton/Carbondale Highway and was very impressed. With a newly re-designed interior, the restaurant gives more of a fine dining feeling as opposed to fast food vibe.

We had a very helpful server, who was willing to advise us on our meal selections preparation and how to get the best deal for our dollar. While my husband and daughters decided to play it safe and stayed away from the fish, my son stuck to his decision to try lobster and he absolutely loved it!

I tried the Tilapia, which I had never had before, and was impressed. It was not a fishy taste at all and the accompanying rice and broccoli were a nice addition to the meal. And lets not forget the biscuit's!! The biscuits are divine!!

All in all , it was a very pleasant experience for the entire family and we will return soon.

And now for the contest!! Red Lobster wants you, actually TWO of you to try out the new and improved Red Lobster. They have donated two $10 gift cards for you to try them out. Leave a comment and let me know, are you a fish eating family or would this be a first for you as well? Promote this contest on your blog, twitter or facebook page, then come back and tell me what you did for a second chance at winning!

Two winners will be randomly chosen on Saturday. Good luck!!

NOTE: While Red Lobster gave me a gift card to try them out, the opinion expressed is my own and only my own. Thanks!
