Red Lobster goes for a new look

CHARLOTTE

Red Lobster will give its five area restaurants a coastal feel inspired by the seaside village of Bar Harbor, Maine,

“This new Bar Harbor restaurant design creates a warm, inviting, seaside atmosphere that builds on the many improvements we’ve made inside our restaurants over the last few years,” said Red Lobster President Kim Lopdrup in a news release.

Charlotte is one of the first areas where remodeling will be done, but Red Lobster plans to remodel all of its locations in the coming months.
